ELECTION LAST ON THE PROGRAM

Annual Farmers Convention Was to
Close Late Today After Day
of Business and Speeches.

STATE SECRETARY SPEAKS

Pres. Bell Recounts Achievements of
Year and Points to Country and
Town Co-operation.

Fred Bell was re-elected president; Charles V. Spencer, vice-president; Howard Ewbank, secretary, and Jess Peters, treasurer of the Rush County Farmers association late this afternoon.

The annual convention of the Rush County Farmers association which opened at the Graham Annex auditorium this morning, was expected to draw to a close late this afternoon with the election of officers.

The convention was regarded as very successful in point of attendance and interest shown. Nearly every accredited delegate was in his seat and there were many visitors present.

The resolutions as presented by the committee and read as the next to the last order of business this afternoon, were adopted. The proposed changes in the constitution, which were presented by the constitution committee, were also adopted this afternoon just before the action taken on the resolutions.

The principal address at the afternoon session was made by Maurice Douglas of Shelbyville, who last week was elected secretary of the state federation. He discussed the problems before the farmers and told how the county organization, working with the state organization, could solve them.

The morning session was devoted to the president's address, the reading of reports of the officers and hearing the reports of the committees.

One thing which was not on the regularly scheduled program was a talk by Amos Baxter, auditor of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company, regarding the hauling of live stock, a service which the inter-urban line started a few months ago. He explained the value of the service and what the farmers' associations had done elsewhere in taking advantage of quick traction service in getting live stock to market.

Fred Bell, who has been president for the past year, recounted the achievements of the county organization during the past year and also pointed to the results which had been obtained through the affiliation of various state associations and other farm organizations under the head of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Mr. Bell referred to the point which John Dyer made in his address at the farmers dinner party here in September, in that civilization rested on the tripod, agriculture, capital and labor. He said that since agriculture was such an essential part, really the basis of all business enterprise, it should have a more solid foundation.

"We need to use a better class of cement in our construction of the foundation," the president continued. "We must get just the proper mixture because we have been using a poor grade of gravel. We have to have good reinforcement to put agriculture where it belongs."

"Business men—really big business men in all lines of effort—are learning that if agriculture is stabilized, it will be possible to stabilize all industry because agriculture is the foundation. That is the reason why so many great minds from all classes of business are giving their time in the effort which is being made to put agriculture on its feet."

Mr. Bell touched on the co-operation between the business men of Rushville and the farmers of the county which had been manifested during the past year.

"I hope all farmers realize the class of business men which we have in Rushville," he continued, "and that you appreciate the spirit of co-operation which they have shown. They started the ball rolling with their county dinner party last March."

HOKEY STILL IN JAIL

No Further Affidavits Been Filed on His Testimony.

John C. Hokey, the night agent for the I. and C. traction company in this city, who was placed in jail yesterday after having confessed to taking $374.74 from the cash drawer and losing the money in some kind of a gambling game in a soft drink parlor in the western part of the city Sunday, is still in jail, and has not been arraigned before Judge Sparks on the two charges, one for embezzlement and for grand larceny. Prosecutor Stevens was reported today to be on a hunting expedition in the county and no further affidavits have been filed as the result of the testimony given out by Hokey when he confessed about taking the money and losing it. Hokey will most likely be given a hearing in the morning, and will be questioned further by the court.

WOMEN URGED TO FORM AUXILIARY

Mrs. Lewis F. Taylor Addresses
Meeting in Connection With
County Farm Convention

ORGANIZATION IS PROBABLE

Speaker Says She Felt Like Territory
Was Already Organized,
Due to Past Achievements

The women of Rush County were meeting this afternoon in the assembly room of the court house, in connection with the second annual convention of the Rush County Farmers' association, and an auxiliary association was expected to result from the meeting.

Mrs. Lewis F. Taylor of Indianapolis, wife of the retiring general secretary of the state organization was the principal speaker this afternoon and addressed the women about forming an auxiliary to work in connection with the local farmers' association.

Mrs. Taylor, after being introduced by Mrs. Ora D. Henley, of near Carthage, chairman, stated that upon being asked to come here to address the meeting concerning organization work she felt like she was coming into a territory that already was organized. She spoke about the chicken dinners which the women of the county served, and also about other meetings in which the women of Rush county had taken a part, and it all pointed the way of organization work here, she said.

Mrs. Taylor spoke for over an hour upon the importance of the women taking an active part in the national farmers' organization, and her address was very interesting and full of human pathos. She stated that she did not want to be considered as a "city woman" coming own here and telling the "country women" what to do, because she was reared on the farm, and only recently moved to Indianapolis while her husband was acting as secretary.

She emphasized the fact that organization of any kind begins in the home, and she laid stress upon the community work, and suggested that each township should form some kind of a community club with the women, and in this way perfect a county unit.

She recalled the important part that the women had in winning the world war, and although there was no direct organization, the different communities then combined themselves as units, and gave assistance in many ways, which resulted in a victory for the United States.

She also pointed out the great results of a national organization of which the farmers are now forming, and urged that the women all over the county should form auxiliary units, in order to assist their husbands in the work which lies before them.

Resolutions Adopted By Rush County Farmers Association

The delegates to the Second Annual Convention of the Rush County Farmers Association wish to congratulate the officers and members on the rapid and substantial growth of the membership during the past year. The association is now both in financial support and in number of members the strongest organization of farmers, which has ever been built up in this county, and we are affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation, which is the strongest organization of farmers ever built up in the United States.

The possibility of this organization for good to the farmer and through him good to the public is almost unlimited.

A few of the benefits secured during the past year through this organization, are:

1. Relief of the stock car shortage.
2. Reduced price on binder twine.
3. Reduced price on fertilizer.
4. Representation at Stock yards securing readjustment of scales, better feed and water facilities.
5. Better transportation of stock cars on the Belt Railroad.
6. Transportation of stocks on the Traction lines.
7. Real dirt farmer on State Tax Board.
8. Last and most important in this county, the good feeling brought about between the farmers and business people of the County.

The dignity of agriculture, as well as the stability and happiness of country life is in a large measure dependent upon the mutual understanding of the conditions surrounding the farmer as well as those engaged in other pursuits.

We remonstrate against the proposition for the Federal Government to increase the income tax on those persons with smaller net income and the reduction of the rate on those with the larger net incomes.

We indorse the work being done by the farmers marketing committee and approve their demand that the grain exchanges be opened to co-operative commission and demand similar privileges, for the co-operative live stock commission companies from the live stock exchanges.

We recommend that all stock yards in this State be placed under the supervision of a special commission of the State, to the end that all unreasonable charges for feed and yardage may be abolished, and that the difference between the price paid the producer and the cost to the consumer be reduced to the minimum.

We recommend to the State Legislature of 1921 that they provide for the appraisal of the real estate in the State in the assessment season of 1921 and every two years thereafter, in order that injustice may not be done by the fluctuation of values of same.

We commend the recent special session of the State legislature for its passage of law presented by the farmers legislative committee, and recommend that said committee continue to represent the farmers before said body. It is our opinion that the so called Blue Sky Law will prove a great saving to the farmers of this State.

We denounce as unfair and unjust the scheme proposed in the so called Nolan Bill to place a special tax on all farm land over and above the value of $10,000.00. The farmers alone, in many townships are constructing highways for the world to use, and we are at present paying our just proportion of the taxes.

We endorse the improvement of highways, that the farmer may get his produce to market at as little cost of transportation as possible, but we urge our Board of Commissioners to see to it, that we get $1.00 in value for each dollar expended.

The recent experience of the world has proven that the welfare and prosperity of the farmer is the hope of the world in war, and it is equally true in peace: A well fed nation is a contented nation. To assist in producing this result we invite the dissatisfied and unfortunate dwellers of the cities and towns to join with us in the production of food.

The farmer of the County and nation are requesting no special favors of any kind, from either the State or nation, but we do insist that we be given the same consideration as that given any other business of equal importance.

We most heartily commend the officers and directors for their untiring labors in behalf of this association. They have accomplished far more than the most sanguine believed could be accomplished in one year. This has been done at a personal sacrifice of time, money and energy, and without any personal reward. Especially do we commend our president, Fred Bell and our secretary, Howard Ewbank, who have borne the burden of organizing the County and have found no weather too severe and no road too bad nor too long, to drive all over the County to attend the meetings in the various townships.

ONE HUNDRED ATTEND 17TH ANNUAL BANQUET SEVENTY-FIVE AT ANNUAL ROLL CALL

Principal Address at Knights of Columbus Function is Made
by Rockport Man

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN

Approximately one hundred men and women attended the annual banquet of Rushville council No. 769, Knights of Columbus, which was held in the lodge rooms Monday evening. A course turkey dinner was served, it being the seventeenth annual event of this character.

The principal address was delivered by L. N. Savage of Rockport, Ind., whose subject was "Our Friends." There was also an address by Will Newbold on the topic, "America of Today."

These talks, together with the program of music which was rendered, made the gathering one of the most pleasant ever held by the council. Numbers on the program consisted of a vocal solo, "The Gay Butterfly" by Miss Henrietta Talbert; a solo by Carl Gulde, "Old Irish Mother of Mine," and a solo, "The Song of the Robins," by Miss Irene Reardon.

A. H. Schrieble presided as toastmaster in fine style.

Lodge Respond With Talk When
Names Are Called

SOME PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

Seventy-five answered to their names when they were read at annual roll call meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge Monday evening. Each member had an opportunity to say a few words when his name was called if he desired, and many took advantage of the chance.

The attendance was regarded as remarkably good in view of the very bad weather which kept many indoors. Letters were read from several absent members. The roll call meeting is held each year for the purpose of gathering together as large a percent of the membership as possible.

A surprise was sprung when the indoor base ball game was begun after the lodge meeting. The game was enjoyed by a large number and it was announced that the Fats and Leans would play after lodge next Monday night. Plans are also being made for organizing a number of basketball teams in the lodge for a series of games.

FUND BOOSTED BY THE ELKS GIFT

Lodge Contributes $100 and Will Cooperate in Buying and Distribution of Gifts.

MUCH MORE NEEDED HOWEVER

Investigators Report Conditions
Equally as Bad if Not Worse
Than Last Year.

Previously reported ----- $ 40.83
Elks Lodge ----- 100.00
A. L. Riggs ----- 3.00
Salvation Army Kettle ----- 3.70

Total ----- $147.53

Thanks to the magnificent gift of $100 to the Daily Republican-Salvation Army Santa Claus fund, the total made a very substantial leap today, but it will require a few more like that before the fund is "out of the woods."

There is no doubt but that equally as much will be required this year as was used last year in the spreading of Christmas cheer throughout the city, where illness and misfortune have already got in their dire work. Reports received today from the committee which is compiling the lists, are to the effect that the need for the fund is as great this year, if not greater, than in 1919. Over $500 was raised and expended last year and it will readily be seen that many good liks will have to be put in between now and a week from Saturday if last year's total is reached.

In addition to the contribution, the Elks lodge will also be known in the organization and will have a part in the buying and distribution of the gifts. The lodge has always supported the fund very substantially and is ready this year to do all within its power to help in the Christmas work.

Many pathetic circumstances are related by the members of the committee who are investigating conditions and preparing the list of children who are to be remembered and families who will be provided with baskets of food.

One investigator found a family of six children where the father has been ill for nine weeks and has not been able to support his wife and children on account of an accident. A little three year old girl in the family clung to the investigator and refused to let her go, insisting that she was "Mrs. Santa Claus."

Scores of children without any prospect of receiving a single gift—not even a bag of candy—were found.

WOULD RETAIN SCHOOL CONTROL

Trustees Opposed to Centralizing it in County Superintendent, Lew
Lewis Says

DISCUSSES PROPOSED LAWS

Walker Township Trustee, Chairman
of Legislative Committee, Gives
Trustees Program

When a sub committee appointed following a meeting of school representatives in Indianapolis December 4, to consider means of raising the school standard of the state, holds a session in Indianapolis December 18, Lew Lewis of Manilla, Walker township trustee, who is chairman of the legislative committee of the State Township Trustees association, will file a written protest against a proposal which the committee will make to abolish the office of township assessor and combine it with the trustee's, and take the control of the schools away from the trustees.

The legislative committee has decided to oppose violently other bills which this sub committee and other sub-committees expect to draft and try to have introduced in the forthcoming session of the legislature, according to Mr. Lewis, who is also a member of the sub-committee headed by J. F. Johnson of Evansville, which will undoubtedly recommend to the legislature that the control of the schools be taken from the trustees.

Mr. Lewis says this sub-committee will offer as a substitute a centralized plan which will place the schools of each county in complete control of the county superintendent of schools and eliminate the trustee as a factor in the school organization. To make up for this, the sub-committee's bill will propose that the assessors' office be abolished and these duties turned over to the township trustees. Mr. Lewis says this proposed bill is opposed not only by the trustees but also by the assessors.

Mr. Lewis made the statement today regarding the attitude of the trustees of the state following the announcement by Governor-elect McCray of a committee from the legislature to study proposed legislation for raising the standard of the Indiana public schools.

He says that the trustees are in favor of the many of the bills which have been suggested by the leading educators of the state, among them the minimum eight months schools, a teachers' contract law and a compulsory health education law. He says the trustees are also in favor of legislation which will allow the trustees to build homes for school teachers because of the inconvenience now caused many teachers due to their inability to find lodging and board in the vicinity where they teach.

Mr. Lewis says the sub-committee will recommend to the legislature that the present state school levy of five cents be increased but the trustees want incorporated in the bill a provision that the townships and other school units which shall be compelled to raise their share before have applied for state road fund tax levy to forty cents and their special school fund levy to 75 cents before they receive state aid.

He points out that the 149 school units which received state aid last year were in 25 southern counties where the low valuations on property has resulted in poor school conditions. The trustees believe these school units should be forced to raise the limit allowed by law locally before receiving any state aid.

Mr. Lewis says the trustees have no objection to State Supt. Hines controlling the state tuition fund and its distribution.

Dorothy Dalton at Princess

Dorothy Dalton in a new Paramount photoplay, "A Romantic Adventuress," will be the chief attraction at the Princess Theatre today. The picture was adapted from Charles Belmont Davis' novel, "A Winter City Favorite."

Miss Dalton has the role of Alice Vafini, daughter of a New Orleans dancing master. She has been brought up by her father, the mother, a luxury-loving woman, having deserted them. After Professor Vanni's death, his wife, now known as Mrs. Martyn, reappears and takes Alice to New York to exploit her beauty and her talents as a dancer. Four years later, Alice, now a famous danseuse, is at Monte Carlo with her mother when she meets Maxwell, a poor but worth while engineer. Mrs. Martyn, desiring a wealthy match for her daughter, induces her to show interest in a Signor Castelli. After he has been trapped into a proposal, Mrs. Martyn tries to blackmail him. Alice, learning the truth, exposes her mother and seeks happiness with young Maxwell.

An excellent cast is declared to support Miss Dalton in "A Romantic Adventuress." Charles Meredith is the leading man, and other players are Augusta Anderson and Ivo Dawson. Harley Knoles directed.

"Rio Grande" at The Mystic

With his picturization of Augustus Thomas' drama, "Rio Grande," Edwin Carewe falls in line with the best producer-directors of the screen. "Rio Grande" is on view at the Mystic Theatre today and so fascinating and gripping is its story that the seven reels unfold with no knowledge of the passing of time.

Rosemary Theby is to be complimented for handling with charm and delicacy a role that might easily have been overdone. She is Maria Inez Lopez, born of an American mother and a Mexican father, but

Hoffman Company Distributes New Edition of Rushville

Copies of the new Hoffman directory of the city of Rushville have been completed and are now being distributed among those who subscribed and the book will no doubt prove of valuable interest to practically every business house. The book contains a street and avenue guide, city and county officials, postoffice information and several pages of miscellaneous information. The residents of Rushville are listed alphabetically as well as the business which the person is engaged in. In the street and avenue guide every house is given according to its number and occupant. In the back part is a list of people living in the country, and this list alone is considered very valuable, as it gives their names and rural route addresses. The information was obtained and published by the W. H. Hoffman Company of Quincy, Ill.

Christmas Shopping

The Seymour Tribune calls attention to the vast change which has come about in the last few years in the methods of shopping at Christmas. The old plan was for the customers to inspect the holiday goods, see what the merchants had to offer as suitable Christmas gifts and then return home and make out the buying lists. Formerly a few purchases were made on the first visit but generally it amounted to nothing more than an inspection trip.

The Tribune points out that nowadays the buying public looks to the newspapers for suggestions. The merchants have come to understand that their customers expect them to make Christmas suggestions in their advertisements. This results, therefore, as the Tribune properly says, in advertising becoming of value as news. The time has come when the advertisements in a newspaper are read equally as much as the news. The Tribune continues:

"Many people today prepare for Christmas buying in a systematic manner. They have found real enjoyment in buying. Instead of postponing their trading until a few hours before the time arrives for the gifts to be presented and then entering the mad rush at the stores, they prepare in advance a list of those to be remembered. From the newspaper advertisements they gather suggestions as to what would be suitable for each person named on the list."

"When this is done they start on their buying trips. They have a definite object in view. They do their trading early enough to avoid the rush and crush at the stores. Long before Christmas they have their presents in their homes and find additional pleasure in wrapping and addressing them."

Advertising has a news value not only at Christmas time, but likewise during all other seasons of the year because people have learned to depend on advertisements to get their estimates on the stocks which the merchants of their communities handle. They scrutinize the store news carefully to make sure that they are not overlooking any bargains. Furthermore, before making a purchase, they examine the advertising sections of the home newspaper to see if the particular article or article they want are being advertised and what their prices are.

Advertising has come to be an essential commodity but it is regarded as more beneficial by some merchants at Christmas than at any other time in the year. Many business men, however, reason that if it is good for business when people are buying gifts, it is equally as beneficial at other periods of the year because people are always buying and they have learned to consult the newspaper before they buy.

It would appear that only by kindling new fires in other countries can the Russian flame be kept alive, or, after repeated failures at Ellis Island, Bolshevik agitators are desperately striving to get into the United States through Holland. The report comes from Rotterdam that an attaché of the American consulate there was offered a bribe of $250 each to let six Bolshevik emissaries ship to the United States.

Makers of imaginary cabinets are having their inning while the Cabinet maker himself is sawing wood.

Comfortable Re-adjustment

Prices of many important commodities have dropped as much as 50 percent. That means a veritable landslide in the industries affected. Some factories have closed. Some commercial houses have been embarrassed. In various industries working forces have been cut down. Again, after several years of labor scarcity, there is a margin of unemployment.

It would be easy, as a financial expert suggests, with these facts to paint a picture of "acute demoralization", but any such picture would be misleading. He points out that not a single business failure of any magnitude has yet been reported and that "the American people are making the necessary re-adjustments with little discomfort".

It is the truth, as any newspaper reader may satisfy himself by studying the financial news from day to day. What "discomfort" there is may be largely due to the failure so far of some commodities to fall in harmony with the rest. This is particularly true of coal, and paper and a few other staples. It is awkward when some of the big staples remain at the peak of prices after the rest have found their proper level. When a common new level is found, people will begin buying normally again, and business can go ahead with assurance.

Leon Daudet, member of the Chamber of Deputies and leader of the royalist party, although he has fought eleven duels, has now refused a challenge on the ground that "duelling is a foolish practice and there is no place for it in France since the war"—which shows that even the royalists were shaken up by the great tragedy.

A paragrapher opines that "some girls grow more beautiful as they get older". But perhaps it is more adhesive in advanced age.

We quite agree with the editorial nut who remarked that "Mr. Harding will be the handsomest president since Wilson".

An exchange coughed up a good one when it said that "any man who is engaged in business is a fortune hunter". But it wasn't original.

Hitting the pipe is a dangerous practice with most people, but it doesn't bother the plumber.

DEFINED.

"Pa, what's meant by 'gay insouciance'?"

"Did you ever see a man in a motorcar nearly run down a pedestrian in the street?"

"Yes, pa."

"And did you notice how the motorist acted when the pedestrian shook his fist at him?"

"Oh, yes, pa."

"Well, that, my son, is a very common example of gay insouciance."

Case of Necessity.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," smilingly said a pawnbroker as he reached for a client's time-piece.

"I'm no friend of yours, Scroggie," said the needy one.

"Mebbe not," chuckled the other, "but the fact remains that you're putting up with me."

Higher Mathematics.

"Is there any such thing as squaring the circle?"

"I don't know," answered the busy campaigner, "but I'm going to try it. When the opposition candidate has swung around the circle, I'm going to follow him up and see if I can't square it for our party."

Sap and Salt

By BERT MOSES.

Belief is strongest about this that we do not understand.

A man's intellect can be largely measured by the way he takes criticism.

Very few of us are brave enough to sign our names to what we actually think.

Those who fail to take care themselves sooner or later have let some one else do it for them a hospital.

Black Cap's Significance.

The custom of putting on a black cap—ally a square of black cloth which judges in England do wear sentencing a prisoner to death, originated from the custom of covering head as a sign of mourning in ancient days. The judge, in putting on black cap, mourns the fact that about to order a life to be forfeited.

Agreement Between England, Japan and U. S. to Limit Naval Equipment is Disapproved

WOULD AROUSE SUSPICION

Washington, Dec. 14—An agreement between England, Japan and the United States to limit naval disarmament, does not meet the favor of Secretary Daniels, the secretary told newspaper men here.

Daniels said he would endorse an undertaking to reduce the sea power only in event it was world wide character. He stated that an agreement among any certain powers would arouse the suspicion of other nations.

The secretary indicated he would go before the House naval affairs committee soon to report his naval construction program. He will urge increase of the American navy is imperative until the United States enters a world wide disarmament agreement.

ESCHBACH TO TALK TO PURCHASING AGENTS

Chairman of State Coal and Food Commission Invited to Address Convention at Mishawaka

TO DISCUSS NEW STATUTE

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14—Jesse E. Eschbach of the Indiana special coal and food commission, will address the annual convention of the National Association of Purchasing Agents at Mishawaka, Ind., on December 15.

Eschbach was invited by W. L. Chandler, president of the association, to speak on the law which created the commission and the effect that the commission's work has had on the coal industry in the state.

In asking Eschbach to speak before the association, Chandler stated that he believed the workings of the coal law would be and had been a good thing, believing that the law should be continued by the legislature when it convenes in January.

A New Health Service for Rushville

McKee and McKee, who have opened an office at 429 North Morgan Street, are graduates of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, the Fountainhead School. They are prepared to give the people of Rushville and vicinity a chiropractic health service that is efficient and effective.

People who have suffered for years and tried everything, have procedure for every case. He makes a spinal analysis to locate the cause of your disease, and then he gives a chiropractic spinal adjustment, which removes the cause. The location of the cause of the disease is definite and positive. The removal of the cause is as definite and positive as a result as the skill of the chiropractor makes possible.

Functioning power, or health, depends on the lines of communication between brain and body being free and open. Nerve energy travels from the brain down through the spinal column and out into the body through the nerve openings which, in the marvellous mechanism of the backbone, come between each joint. As the chiropractor makes his spinal analysis of your condition, he finds where there are deviations, and by the chiropractic adjustment, is enabled to correct the alignment and thus remove the nerve pressure which is causing the disease.

Now this is a definite service. It restores the normal nerve supply to affected organs and thus the body becomes normal, or healthful, and of course free of the disease. Under chiropractic adjusting disease disappears just as rapidly as the incoming nerve energy can overcome the abnormal conditions and repair the tissues for normal operation.

People who go to the chiropractor find that he has the same found chiropractic the solution of all their trouble. If you are a sufferer, then you owe it to yourself to find out what chiropractic can do. Your investment in the recovery and care of your health is the best investment you can make. It saves hospital costs and it develops your greatest earning power.

IN HER NICOTINES.

A minstrel singer, visiting in the home of local friends not long since, entertained the family of his host with several songs, greatly to the delight of three small girls in the household.

After a song or two the minstrel observed in theatrical parlance:

"My pipes seem to be a little stuffed up."

The smallest girl left the room and soon returned with a box, which she handed the minstrel.

"What are these?" he asked, "throat lozenges?"

"No," the child replied; "they're papa's pipe cleaners."—Youngstown Telegram.

"That man who was pointed out to me, as a moonshiner," remarked the stranger, "doesn't look like a dissipated person."

"He isn't," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop. "A moonshiner who expects to avoid serious trouble has got to keep sober."

PRODUCE MARKET SHOWS A SLUMP

Depression in the Sale of Produce is Attributed to Poor Purchasing of The Public

IT SHOULD BE GOOD NOW

Holiday Season Generally Takes a Bound For Market and Rush May be Expected

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14—From the reports that have been coming in from over the entire state for the past few days, there has been a very dull tone to the wholesale produce market for the past two or three weeks, and instead of showing signs of better spirit, it continues to grow worse.

The depression in the sale of produce is attributed by the grocers and wholesale dealers to the poor purchasing power of the general public. This in turn, is said to be due to the increasing numbers of the unemployed.

There is also, a spirit among those who have saved during the high wages and salary period, to be economical in groceries, dealers in produce say. This, it is said, is the only way that many people over the state will be able to enjoy the few and traditional luxuries of the Yuletide season. The rent and other bills which are permanent, must be paid and there is no way of reducing that portion of the cost of living, but the grocery bill is flexible.

This depression in the spirit of the produce market is more prominent in the manufacturing and commercial districts and cities, but everywhere it is evident.

There are hopes that during the few days proceeding Christmas and the New Year holiday, there will be a better spirit shown, but after that the consensus of the opinions of wholesale produce dealers is that there will be a still further depression that cannot be broken until Spring.

ROOT VISITS HARDING CONCERNING LEAGUE

Urges President-Elect to Save Frame Work and Points Out Importance of World Court

TO SAFEGUARD INTERESTS

Marion, Ohio, Dec. 14—Pressure on President-elect Harding to save the frame work of the league of nations by offering to enter it on safeguarding conditions was indicated in the visit of Elihu Root, one of the most powerful figures in the republican party and a staunch friend of the league.

Root planned to try to convince Harding of the necessity of organizing a world court in which he participated several months ago. He was also expected to outline to Harding the extent to which European nations could be expected to go in making concessions to the American people when Article ten is struck out and the Monroe doctrine is interpreted.

Root is being urged by certain members of the party for secretary of the state. Harding has no decision to offer and shows no favor for Root as secretary of state as his advisors would desire.

Root's appearance here Monday served to back up the pro-league offer of Hoover. Charles E. Hughes, is understood to have outlined essentially the same issue. William Jennings Bryan plans to speak a word for the league and Ex-president Taft will be called later for the same purpose.

Recommended to School Children

This is the season when children are subject to croup, colds and coughs. Rena C. Marchard, 36 Lawrence St., Salem, Mass., writes: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar with good results. I had a very bad cold and it gave me relief at once, so I recommend it to every child that goes to school." This standard, low priced medicine loosens and clears mucus and phlegm; checks strangling coughing, makes easy breathing, soothes and heals raw, inflamed membranes, and stops tickling in throat." F. What Is It that crowds our store with customers every day? Why is it that our business has increased almost 20 per cent over last year?

We are going to suggest only one of the many reasons here: We have always been consistent makers of low prices, our customers know that they can depend on us the year round.

We do not go on periodic sprees of price cutting and then forget it for a year.

Among the wholesalers we have, the reputation of being prompt pay and we have opportunities for buying that the low pay fellow never hears about. Our customers reap the benefit of these advantages.

GERMANY REFUSES TO ABIDE BY DECISION

Notifies League of Nations That She Won't Accept Terms as Outlined by The Plans

INVOLVES LAND QUESTIONS

Geneva, Switzerland, Dec 14—The German government Monday presented a new note to the assembly of the league of nations refusing to recognize the decision of the league regarding the awards of Eupen and Malmady, former German territory to Belgium.

The league assembly began consideration of plans for an international tribunal submitted by a committee of three members. M. Leon Bourgeois, French delegate presented the commission's report.

Acknowledgement was made of the part played in drafting the tribunal planned by Elihu Root.

Medill McCormick, republican senator from Illinois and widely credited here as being an unofficial observer of the league's activities while president-elect Harding was a candidate, was present when Bourgeois began reading his report.

Bourgeois outlined the commission's plan for establishment of a tribunal with headquarters at the Hague. He said he court will comprise eleven judges and four deputies to meet in annual session there. The session will begin June 15 of each year and terminate when the docket is clear.

Not Merely "Self Starting"
THE Matthews "Automatic Caretaker" requires no prompting from the human brain in the recharging of the storage batteries. Long before they are exhausted to the danger point the "Automatic Caretaker," of its own accord, automatically starts the engine recharging the batteries. And it automatically stops recharging when the batteries are full. A "self-starting" plant depends on some one's memory. The "Automatic Caretaker" can be obtained with

TRAINING SOUGHT IN OTHER STATES

Committee of the State Universities Has Just Completed a Survey of The Schools

NOT MANY COME TO INDIANA

Purdue and Indiana to Seek Levy Sufficient to Maintain Universities in Keeping With Times

(By United Press)

Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 14.—The committee of the state universities and normal schools in Indiana has completed a survey showing that 1,7068 Hoosier young men and women are seeking their university training in state-supported universities of the state surrounding Indiana. In Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and Minnesota where these Indiana students have been attracted to the state universities of those states the educational crisis has been met by more liberal public aid to the institutions of higher learning. From these five states Indiana university has enrolled only 32 students while Purdue has 193 students from these states.

In Illinois university there are 450 Indiana students while five years ago the number was only 199. There are now 332 Hoosier students attending the University of Michigan, 174 at Wisconsin University, 97 at Ohio State University and nine at the University of Minnesota. Only a small percentage of Indiana students were attending these universities five years ago. The increased attendance of Indiana students at these five surrounding state supported universities parallels the increased public support of these universities.

Some of the best men of the faculties of Indiana and Purdue university have gone to these five state universities. Conservative budgets of Purdue and Indiana universities call for about $3,000,000 beginning in 1922 to enable them to regain the ground lost during the past years because of insufficient state aid. The two universities will ask the coming state legislature to authorize a levy sufficient to maintain and operate the universities in keeping with the forward step in higher education.

YOU never saw more exquisite cabinets.

The world has never produced any more exquisite cabinets.

These cabinets are descended out of the Golden Age of Furniture.

This was the age when Europe built its most luxurious palaces, created its greatest works of art, developed its finest types of craftsmanship.

Mr. Edison's designers went back to the furniture masterpieces of this period. They adapted 17 of them for the modern American home. They made every Edison Cabinet a period cabinet,—even the least expensive.

You must see these cabinets. Only then will you appreciate what wonderful richness and atmosphere one will add to your home.

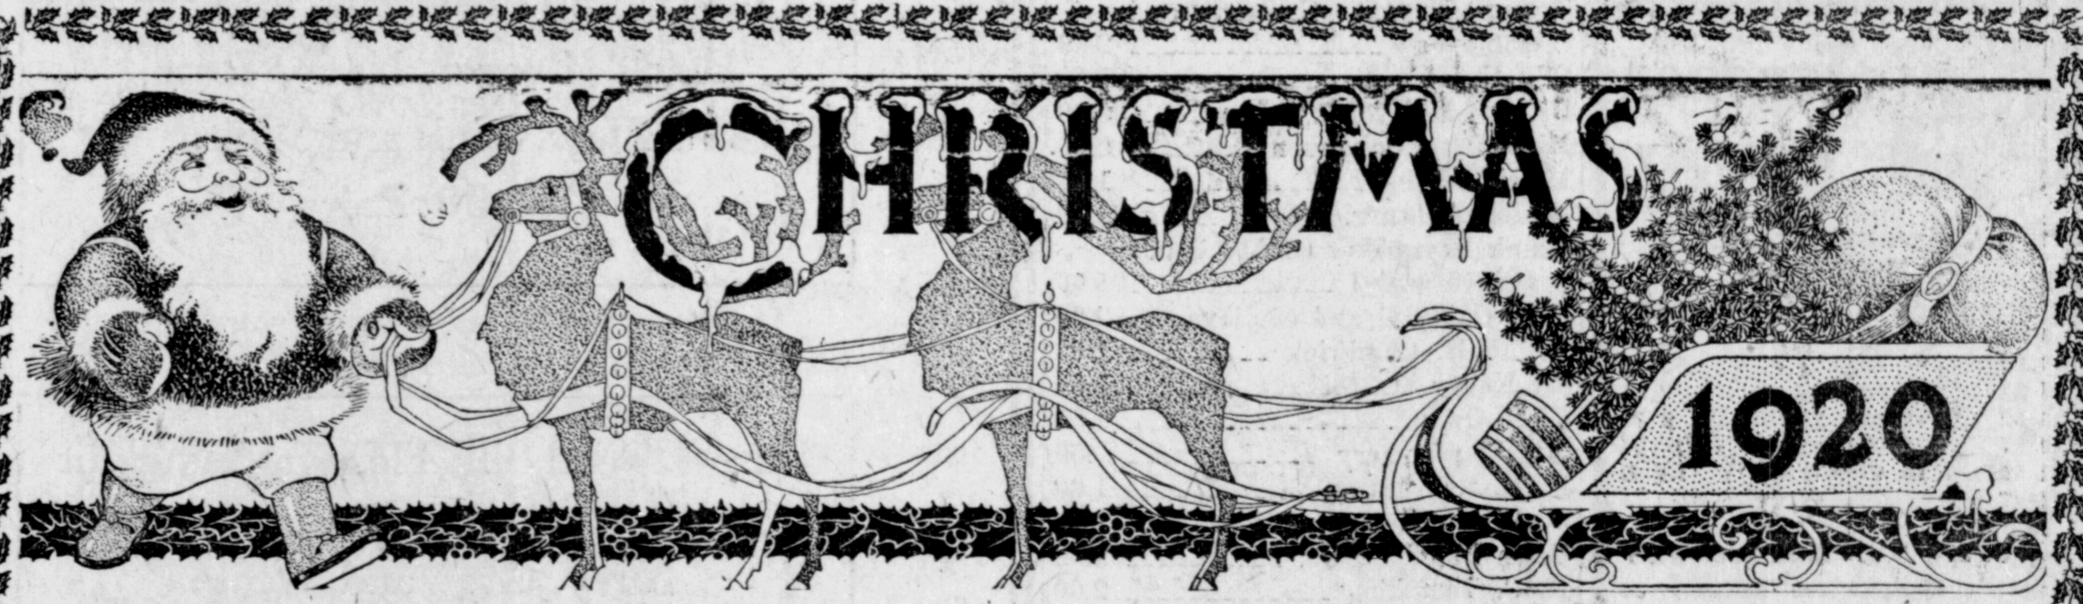

Ask about our Xmas Budget Plan. It manages your money economically. It makes 1921 help nav: and that's good business.

A Word About Prices

In 1914, as you can ascertain through practically any investment banker, the Edison Laboratories were selling phonographs on a narrower margin of profit than the other manufacturers. Since 1914, the price of the New Edison has advanced less than 15%—and a portion of this is war tax. "Edison stood the gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of everyone.

ANCIENT RACES PLAYED BALL

Tossing the Sphere is Supposed to Have Had Deep Symbolic Meaning Centuries Ago.

Although it is a proven fact that the game now designated baseball is of modern and purely American origin, the use of a ball in ceremonies and games goes back many centuries.

Four thousand years ago, in the twelfth Egyptian dynasty, a Coptic artist sculptured on the temple Beni Hassan, human figures throwing and catching balls. A leather-covered ball used in games played on the Nile over 40 centuries ago, has a place among the many archeological specimens in the British museum. It has a sewed cover and is in a remarkable state of preservation.

The game of ball was prized by the Greeks as giving grace and elasticity to the human figure, and they erected a statue, to one Aristonius for his proficiency in it. Ancient medical practitioners were wont to prescribe a course of ball playing, where the modern doctor would order a diet of pills.

It is supposed that ball tossing had a deep symbolic meaning when played in the spring of the year; and that the tossing of the ball was intended first to typify the upspringing of the life of nature after the gloom of winter. And, whether this was the case among the people of antiquity or not, it is a remarkable fact that the ecclesiastics of the early church adopted this symbol and gave it a very special significance by meeting on Easter day and throwing a ball from hand to hand, to typify the Resurrection.

"TOTEM POLES" TELL STORY

Are Historical Records, and Not, as Many Supposed, Idols to Be Worshipped.

An art in sculpture not resembling any other art in the world, unless possibly that of ancient Mexico, is found highly developed among the aboriginal natives of the northwest coast.

Their material is always wood, and is furnished by huge trees from the forest, which are carved into the most fantastic shapes. In this style are sculptured the so-called "totem poles," which, often of great size and height, astonish the observer by the intricacy of their workmanship and the weird imaginativeness of their complex designs.

Early missionaries in that part of the world mistook the totem poles for idols. As a matter of fact, they possess no such significance, being merely heraldic columns. Each tribal clan has its own traditions and myths, which takes the place of history, and these are symbolized by the extraordinary birds and other animals. Sometimes human faces or figures, carved on the totem poles.

Thus the Bear clan will have its heraldic column topped by the sculptured figure of a bear. The raven shows up conspicuously as the totem, or crest, of the Raven clan; the whale for the Whale clan, and so on.

To the unversed a totem pole would have no significance beyond its queerness, but it is in reality a whole story carved in wood.

The Real Test.

The measure of civilization in any race or community is the capacity for co-operation—the harmonious and effective getting along together.

Bigness Necessary for Service

IN some farm operations, in many manufacturing lines, and, more particularly, in refining and distribution of petroleum products, large scale operations are essential to insure maximum economy and service.

The production of crude oil varies but little on account of seasonal changes, and the refining processes are continuous operations.

The consumption of petroleum products, however, varies widely with the season. In summer, consumption far outstrips production, while during the winter months the reverse is true.

To prepare himself for the summer rush, the oil refiner, who is ambitious to render a maximum service, must operate his refineries at full capacity throughout the year, and must provide adequate storage to take care of his surplus output during the winter months, and store it against a day of maximum demand when the country roads and city boulevards are crowded with machines, and the farmer has his tractor in the field.

To perform this service requires the investment of huge sums of money, and the maintenance of a complete organization at all times.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is ambitious to be a leader in the petroleum industry. It is ambitious to render to the people of the Middle West as near a perfect service as care, thought, and adequate resources can devise.

In carrying on its business, the Company has invested more than 185 million dollars; it operates four large refineries in which it manufactures the many varieties of petroleum products needed by the consuming public.

It operates 3215 bulk stations, more than 1000 filling stations, and a fleet of nearly 4000 tank delivery trucks.

Its permanent organization consists of about 23,000 efficient loyal men and women, working under one head, to render a service which makes it possible for you to get a gallon of gasoline, or a quart of oil, or a pound of grease, when you want it, and wherever you may be.

FOR SALE THE ABERCROMBIE FARM

In order to divide up the Theodore Abercrombie estate among the heirs, the farm, known as the adjoining Rushville at the city limits on the north and consisting of 284 acres, more or less, is now offered for sale at private sale.

This is one of the best farms in Rush County, most of it having been in the family for fifty years and has been well taken care of and not rented.

It is capable of division into two complete and separate farms—each with tenant houses, barns and other first class improvements. That part known as the "East Place" lies on the east side of Main street, and comprises about one hundred and thirty-one acres, and that portion known as the "West Place" lies on the west side of Main Street, and consists of about one hundred and fifty-three acres. Both farms extend down to Eleventh street.

For farming purposes there are no better farms in Rush County than these, but they are further valuable because they lie right at the limits of the city on the north and adjacent to Rushville's finest residence section.

Both farms are capable of sub-division into valuable city lots. Part of the farm has already been laid off into city lots, taken into the city and fine residences built upon it.

As the L. E. & W. R. R. bounds the farm on the west, and the Pennsylvania R. R. intersects a portion of the farm on the east, several fine factory sites are available.

This land will be offered for sale as a whole or as two separate farms. Possession will be given on or before March first, 1921.

BEEKEEPERS WILL HOLD CONVENTION

State Apiary Inspector Announces Meeting in Senate Chamber on December 16 and 17

M. J. NIBLACK IS PRESIDENT

Prominent Bee Raisers of the Country Will Address The Two Day's Business Session

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14—The annual convention of the Indiana Bee-keepers' Association will be held in the senate chamber, State House, in this city on December 16 and 17, according to announcement by C. Q. Yost, state apiary inspector for the department of conservation, and secretary of the bee-keepers' organization.

Mason J. Niblack, of Vincennes president of the association will act as chairman. Several speakers prominent in bee cultural work are scheduled to appear on the program.

George S. Demuth, of Medina, Ohio, editor of "Gleanings in Bee Culture" will speak to the convention both days. Mr. Demuth formerly was connected with the U. S. department of Agriculture at Washington. Other speakers are E. W. Atkins, extension specialist, Watertown Iowa; E. S. Miller, Valparaiso; Ross B. Scott Lagrange; William A. Hunter, Terre Haute; Richard Lieber, director of conservation in Indiana and Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist. Mrs. Louis Burkhardt, of Indianapolis, will present observations of a beekeeper in Switzerland, her native country, and Q. O. Rainbolt, of Terre Haute, agricultural agent of Vigo county, will give a talk accompanying illustrated cinema pictures of a bee tour conducted recently in his country.

In a letter sent to several thousand beekeepers in Indiana, Mr. Yost calls attention that it was only a year ago that the Indiana Bee-keepers' Association held its annual convention in Indianapolis and reorganized along more progressive lines. The membership is now about ten times as large as last year and there is a very substantial sum in the treasury he says.

The letter urges persons interested in more advanced beekeeping and augmented honey production to lend their support toward procuring improved legislation to further the business. It points out that while inspectors of the state department of conservation inspected more apiaries last year than ever before, they did not visit all localities because there were too few of them to respond to all calls for their aid.

Unless the Department is allowed more money for this work there will only be three inspectors in the field next year where there should be six or seven, Mr. Yost says.

Beekeepers of Indiana produced approximately six million pounds of honey last season. Hoosier accepted honey as a substitute for high priced sugar, and, in addition to local production, many carloads of imported honey were consumed. According to Mr. Yost, no other state in the Union has a more liberal distribution of honey bearing plants than Indiana. One hundred species gives the state two classes of early summer flows and two classes of fall flows. An entire failure of all of these groups at once has never been known.

DEAR OLD PETE:

Winston-Salem, N. C.
Friday p. m.

Just wound up the one swellest day of my life! Since early this morning, when I got an invitation to visit R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories, I've been in the midst of millions of Camel cigarettes.

Man—the happiest idea you or I ever had as to the size of this Reynolds enterprise, or the number of Camels manufactured daily, is simply piker-stuff! Wipe off the slate and start fresh! Why—Pete, it seemed to me like a couple of those cigarette-making machines could keep half the nation smoking Camels steadily—BUT—honest to goodness, there are hundreds of these machines batting out Camels at the rate of 27,000 an hour—EACH!

Pete, you wouldn't have to consult a guide book to know you were in the Camel factories! The atmosphere is charged with that wonderful aroma you get when you open up a deck of Camels! And, you know, old elephant—you've had a trunk full!

As the Camels dropped into the containers I figured the delight each one would supply! And, how Camels mellow, mild body would hit the right spot and how Camels refreshing flavor would cheer up some smoker's jaded appetite! And, each Camel free from any unpleasant cigarettey aftertaste or unpleasant cigarettey odor! And—

Pete—I'll have to lay off and light another Camel! Write you some more soon.

Yours joyously

Shorty.

ELECTION LAST ON THE PROGRAM

Annual Farmers Convention Was to
Close Late Today After Day
of Business and Speeches.

STATE SECRETARY SPEAKS

Pres. Bell Recounts Achievements of
Year and Points to Country and
Town Co-operation.

Fred Bell was re-elected president; Charles V. Spencer, vice-president; Howard Ewbank, secretary, and Jess Peters, treasurer of the Rush County Farmers association late this afternoon.

The annual convention of the Rush County Farmers association which opened at the Graham Annex auditorium this morning, was expected to draw to a close late this afternoon with the election of officers.

The convention was regarded as very successful in point of attendance and interest shown. Nearly every accredited delegate was in his seat and there were many visitors present.

The resolutions as presented by the committee and read as the next to the last order of business this afternoon, were adopted. The proposed changes in the constitution, which were presented by the constitution committee, were also adopted this afternoon just before the action taken on the resolutions.

The principal address at the afternoon session was made by Maurice Douglas of Shelbyville, who last week was elected secretary of the state federation. He discussed the problems before the farmers and told how the county organization, working with the state organization, could solve them.

The morning session was devoted to the president's address, the reading of reports of the officers and hearing the reports of the committees.

One thing which was not on the regularly scheduled program was a talk by Amos Baxter, auditor of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company, regarding the hauling of live stock, a service which the inter-urban line started a few months ago. He explained the value of the service and what the farmers' associations had done elsewhere in taking advantage of quick traction service in getting live stock to market.

Fred Bell, who has been president for the past year, recounted the achievements of the county organization during the past year and also pointed to the results which had been obtained through the affiliation of various state associations and other farm organizations under the head of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Mr. Bell referred to the point which John Dyer made in his address at the farmers dinner party here in September, in that civilization rested on the tripod, agriculture, capital and labor. He said that since agriculture was such an essential part, really the basis of all business enterprise, it should have a more solid foundation.

"We need to use a better class of cement in our construction of the foundation," the president continued. "We must get just the proper mixture because we have been using a poor grade of gravel. We have to have good reinforcement to put agriculture where it belongs."

"Business men—really big business men in all lines of effort—are learning that if agriculture is stabilized, it will be possible to stabilize all industry because agriculture is the foundation. That is the reason why so many great minds from all classes of business are giving their time in the effort which is being made to put agriculture on its feet."

Mr. Bell touched on the co-operation between the business men of Rushville and the farmers of the county which had been manifested during the past year.

"I hope all farmers realize the class of business men which we have in Rushville," he continued, "and that you appreciate the spirit of co-operation which they have shown. They started the ball rolling with their county dinner party last March."

HOKEY STILL IN JAIL No Further Affidavits Filed on His Testimony

John C. Hokey, the night agent for the I. and C. traction company in this city, who was placed in jail yesterday after having confessed to taking $374.74 from the cash drawer and losing the money in some kind of a gambling game in a soft drink parlor in the western part of the city Sunday, is still in jail, and has not been arraigned before Judge Sparks on the two charges, one for embezzlement and for grand larceny. Prosecutor Stevens was reported today to be on a hunting expedition in the county and no further affidavits have been filed as the result of the testimony given out by Hokey when he confessed about taking the money and losing it. Hokey will most likely be given a hearing in the morning, and will be questioned further by the court.

WOMEN URGED TO FORM AUXILIARY

Mrs. Lewis F. Taylor Addresses
Meeting in Connection With
County Farm Convention

ORGANIZATION IS PROBABLE

Speaker Says She Felt Like Territory
Was Already Organized,
Due to Past Achievements

The women of Rush County were meeting this afternoon in the assembly room of the court house, in connection with the second annual convention of the Rush County Farmers' association, and an auxiliary association was expected to result from the meeting.

Mrs. Lewis F. Taylor of Indianapolis, wife of the retiring general secretary of the state organization was the principal speaker this afternoon and addressed the women about forming an auxiliary to work in connection with the local farmers' association.

Mrs. Taylor, after being introduced by Mrs. Ora D. Henley, of near Carthage, chairman, stated that upon being asked to come here to address the meeting concerning organization work she felt like she was coming into a territory that already was organized. She spoke about the chicken dinners which the women of the county served, and also about other meetings in which the women of Rush county had taken a part, and it all pointed the way of organization work here, she said.

Mrs. Taylor spoke for over an hour upon the importance of the women taking an active part in the national farmers' organization, and her address was very interesting and full of human pathos. She stated that she did not want to be considered as a "city woman" coming own here and telling the "country women" what to do, because she was reared on the farm, and only recently moved to Indianapolis while her husband was acting as secretary.

She emphasized the fact that organization of any kind begins in the home, and she laid stress upon the community work, and suggested that each township should form some kind of a community club with the women, and in this way perfect a county unit.

She recalled the important part that the women had in winning the world war, and although there was no direct organization, the different communities then combined themselves as units, and gave assistance in many ways, which resulted in a victory for the United States.

She also pointed out the great results of a national organization of which the farmers are now forming, and urged that the women all over the county should form auxiliary units, in order to assist their husbands in the work which lies before them.

Resolutions Adopted By Rush County Farmers Association

The delegates to the Second Annual Convention of the Rush County Farmers Association wish to congratulate the officers and members on the rapid and substantial growth of the membership during the past year. The association is now both in financial support, and in number of members the strongest organization of farmers, which has ever been built up in this county, and we are affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation, which is the strongest organization of farmers ever built up in the United States.

The possibility of this organization for good to the farmer and through him good to the public is almost unlimited.

A few of the benefits secured during the past year through this organization, are:

1. Relief of the stock car shortage.
2. Reduced price on binder twine.
3. Reduced price on fertilizer.
4. Representation at Stock yards securing readjustment of scales, better feed and water facilities.
5. Better transportation of stock cars on the Belt Railroad.
6. Transportation of stocks on the Traction lines.
7. Real dirt farmer on State Tax Board.
8. Last and most important in this county, the good feeling brought about between the farmers and business people of the County.

The dignity of agriculture, as well as the stability and happiness of country life is in a large measure dependent upon the mutual understanding of the conditions surrounding the farmer as well as those engaged in other pursuits.

We remonstrate against the proposition for the Federal Government to increase the income tax on those persons with smaller net income and the reduction of the rate on those with the larger net incomes.

We endorse the work being done by the farmers marketing committee and approve their demand that the grain exchanges be opened to co-operative commission and demand similar privileges, for the co-operative live stock commission companies from the live stock exchanges.

We recommend that all stock yards in this State be placed under the supervision of a special commission of the State, to the end that all unreasonable charges for feed and yardage may be abolished, and that the difference between the price paid the producer and the cost to the consumer be reduced to the minimum.

We recommend to the State Legislature of 1921 that they provide for the appraisalment of the real estate in the State in the assessment season of 1921 and every two years thereafter, in order that injustice may not be done by the fluctuation of values of same.

We commend the recent special session of the State legislature for its passage of law presented by the farmers legislative committee, and recommend that said committee continue to represent the farmers before said body. It is our opinion that the so called Blue Sky Law will prove a great saving to the farmers of this State.

We denounce as unfair and un-American the scheme proposed in the so called Nolan Bill to place a special tax on all farm land over and above the value of $10,000.00. The farmers alone, in many townships are constructing highways for the world to use, and we are at present paying our just proportion of the taxes.

We endorse the improvement of highways, that the farmer may get his produce to market at as little cost of transportation as possible, but we urge our Board of Commission to see to it, that we get $1.00 in value for each dollar expended.

The recent experience of the world has proven that the welfare and prosperity of the farmer is the hope of the world in war, and it is equally true in peace: A well fed nation is a contented nation. To assist in producing this result we invite the dissatisfied and unfortunate dwellers of the cities and towns to join with us in the production of food.

The farmer of the County and nation are requesting no special favors of any kind, from either the State or nation, but we do insist that we be given the same consideration as that given any other business of equal importance.

We most heartily commend the officers and directors for their untiring labors in behalf of this association. They have accomplished far more than the most sanguine believed could be accomplished in one year. This has been done at a personal sacrifice of time, money and energy, and without any personal reward. Especially do we commend our president, Fred Bell and our secretary, Howard Ewbank, who have borne the burden of organizing the County and have found no weather too severe and no road too bad nor too long, to drive all over the County to attend the meetings in the various townships.

ONE HUNDRED ATTEND SEVENTY-FIVE AT 17TH ANNUAL BANQUET

Principal Address at Knights of Columbus Function is Made
by Rockport Man

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN

Approximately one hundred men and women attended the annual banquet of Rushville council No. 769, Knights of Columbus, which was held in the lodge rooms Monday evening. A course turkey dinner was served, it being the seventeenth annual event of this character.

The principal address was delivered by L. N. Savage of Rockport, Ind., whose subject was "Our Friends." There was also an address by Will Newbold on the topic, "America of Today."

These talks, together with the program of music which was rendered, made the gathering one of the most pleasant ever held by the council. Numbers on the program consisted of a vocal solo, "The Gay Butterfly" by Miss Henrietta Talbert; a solo by Carl Gulde, "Old Irish Mother of Mine," and a solo, "The Song of the Robins," by Miss Irene Reardon.

A. H. Schrichte presided as toastmaster in fine style.

Lodge Respond With Talk When
Names Are Called

SOME PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

Seventy-five answered to their names when they were read at annual roll call meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge Monday evening. Each member had an opportunity to say a few words when his name was called if he desired, and many took advantage of the chance.

The attendance was regarded as remarkably good in view of the very bad weather which kept many indoors. Letters were read from several absent members. The roll call meeting is held each year for the purpose of gathering together as large a percent of the membership as possible.

A surprise was sprung when the indoor base ball game was begun after the lodge meeting. The game was enjoyed by a large number and it was announced that the Fats and Leans would play after lodge next Monday night. Plans are also being made for organizing a number of basketball teams in the lodge for a series of games.

TO ADDRESS FACULTY CLUB Robert E. Mansfield Will Also Speak to I. U. Students at Bloomington

Robert E. Mansfield left this morning for Bloomington, where he will address the Faculty Club of Indiana University, this evening, on "South America." Tomorrow Wednesday he will deliver an address before the students assembly of the University on "Our Diplomatic and Consular Service." Mr. Mansfield will be the guest of the Bloomington Kiwanis Club at a luncheon Wednesday noon, at which he will be one of the speakers.

Mr. Mansfield served in the United States consular service for nineteen years and held posts in Africa, South America, Europe and Canada.

FUND BOOSTED BY THE ELKS GIFT

Lodge Contributes $100 and Will Co-

tribution of Gifts.

MUCH MORE NEEDED HOWEVER
Investigators Report Conditions
Equally as Bad if Not Worse
Than Last Year.

Previously reported ----- $ 40.83
Elks Lodge ----- 100.00
A. L. Riggs ----- 3.00
Salvation Army Kettle ----- 3.70

Total ----- $147.53

Thanks to the magnificent gift of $100 to the Daily Republican-Salvation Army Santa Claus fund, the total made a very substantial leap today, but it will require a few more like that before the fund is "out of the woods."

There is no doubt but that equally as much will be required this year as was used last year in the spreading of Christmas cheer throughout the city, where illness and misfortune have already got in their dire work. Reports received today from the committee which is compiling the lists, are to the effect that the need for the fund is as great this year, if not greater, than in 1919. Over $500 was raised and expended last year and it will readily be seen that many good lies will have to be put in between now and a week from Saturday if last year's total is reached.

In addition to the contribution, the Elks lodge will also be known in the organization and will have a part in the buying and distribution of the gifts. The lodge has always supported the fund very substantially and is ready this year to do all within its power to help in the Christmas work.

Many pathetic circumstances are related by the members of the committee who are investigating conditions and preparing the list of children who are to be remembered and families who will be provided with baskets of food.

One investigator found a family of six children where the father has been ill for nine weeks and has not been able to support his wife and children on account of an accident. A little three-year old girl in the family clung to the investigator and refused to let her go, insisting that she was "Mrs. Santa Claus."

Scores of children without any prospect of receiving a single gift—not even a bag of candy—were found.

WOULD RETAIN SCHOOL CONTROL

Trustees Opposed to Centralizing it
in County Superintendent, Lew
Lewis Says

DISCUSSES PROPOSED LAWS
Walker Township Trustee, Chairman
of Legislative Committee, Gives
Trustees Program

When a sub committee appointed following a meeting of school representatives in Indianapolis December 4, to consider means of raising the school standard of the state, holds a session in Indianapolis December 18, Lew Lewis of Manilla, Walker township trustee, who is chairman of the legislative committee of the State Township Trustees association, will file a written protest against a proposal which the committee will make to abolish the office of township assessor and combine it with the trustee's, and take the control of the schools away from the trustees.

The legislative committee has decided to oppose violently other bills which this sub committee and other sub-committees expect to draft and try to have introduced in the forthcoming session of the legislature, according to Mr. Lewis, who is also a member of the sub-committee headed by J. F. Johnson of Evansville, which will undoubtedly recommend to the legislature that the control of the schools be taken from the trustees.

Mr. Lewis says this sub-committee will offer as a substitute a centralized plan which will place the schools of each county in complete control of the county superintendent of schools and eliminate the trustee as a factor in the school organization. To make up for this, the sub-committee's bill will propose that the assessors' office be abolished and these duties turned over to the township trustees. Mr. Lewis says this proposed bill is opposed not only by the trustees but also by the assessors.

Mr. Lewis made the statement today regarding the attitude of the trustees of the state following the announcement by Governor-elect McCray of a committee from the legislature to study proposed legislation for raising the standard of the Indiana public schools.

He says that the trustees are in favor of the many of the bills which have been suggested by the leading educators of the state, among them the minimum eight months schools, a teachers' contract law and a compulsory health education law. He says the trustees are also in favor of legislation which will allow the trustees to build homes for school teachers because of the inconvenience now caused many teachers due to their inability to find lodging and board in the vicinity where they teach.

Mr. Lewis says the sub-committee will recommend to the legislature that the present state school levy of five cents be increased but the trustees want incorporated in the bill a provision that the townships and other school units which aid shall be compelled to raise their share before have applied for state road fund tax levy to forty cents and their special school fund levy to 75 cents before they receive state aid.

He points out that the 149 school units which received state aid last year were in 25 southern counties where the low valuations on property has resulted in poor school conditions. The trustees believe these school units should be forced to raise the limit allowed by law locally before receiving any state aid.

Mr. Lewis says the trustees have no objection to State Supt. Hines controlling the state tuition fund and its distribution.

NEW DIRECTORY IS OUT

Hoffman Company Distributes New Edition of Rushville

Copies of the new Hoffman directory of the city of Rushville have been completed and are now being distributed among those who subscribed and the book will no doubt prove of valuable interest to practically every business house. The book contains a street and avenue guide, city and county officials, postoffice information and several pages of miscellaneous information. The residents of Rushville are listed alphabetically as well as the business which the person is engaged in. In the street and avenue guide every house is given according to its number and occupant. In the back part is a list of people living in the country, and this list alone is considered very valuable, as it gives their names and rural route addresses. The information was obtained and published by the W. H. Hoffman Company of Quincy, Ill.

Christmas Shopping

The Seymour Tribune calls attention to the vast change which has come about in the last few years in the methods of shopping at Christmas. The old plan was for the customers to inspect the holiday goods, see what the merchants had to offer as suitable Christmas gifts and then return home and make out the buying lists. Formerly a few purchases were made on the first visit but generally it amounted to nothing more than an inspection trip.

The Tribune points out that nowadays the buying public looks to the newspapers for suggestions. The merchants have come to understand that their customers expect them to make Christmas suggestions in their advertisements. This results, therefore, as the Tribune properly says, in advertising becoming of value as news. The time has come when the advertisements in a newspaper are read equally as much as the news. The Tribune continues:

"Many people today prepare for Christmas buying in a systematic manner. They have found real enjoyment in buying. Instead of postponing their trading until a few hours before the time arrives for the gifts to be presented and then entering the mad rush at the stores, they prepare in advance a list of those to be remembered. From the newspaper advertisements they gather suggestions as to what would be suitable for each person named on the list."

"When this is done they start on their buying trips. They have a definite object in view. They do their trading early enough to avoid the rush and crush at the stores. Long before Christmas they have their presents in their homes and find additional pleasure in wrapping and addressing them."

"Advertising has a news value not only at Christmas time, but likewise during all other seasons of the year because people have learned to depend on advertisements to get their estimates on the stocks which the merchants of their communities handle. They scrutinize the store news carefully to make sure that they are not overlooking any bargains. Furthermore, before making a purchase, they examine the advertising sections of the home newspaper to see if the particular article or article they want are being advertised and what their prices are."

chants at Christmas than at any other time in the year. Many business men, however, reason that if it is good for business when people are buying gifts, it is equally as beneficial at other periods of the year because people are always buying and they have learned to consult the newspaper before they buy.

It would appear that only by kindling new fires in other countries can the Russian flame be kept alive, or, after repeated failures at Ellis Island, Bolshevik agitators are desperately striving to get into the United States through Holland. The report comes from Rotterdam that an attaché of the American consulate there was offered a bribe of $250 each to let six Bolshevik emissaries ship to the United States.

Makers of imaginary cabinets are having their inning while the Cabinet maker himself is sawing wood.

Comfortable Re-adjustment

Prices of many important commodities have dropped as much as 50 percent. That means a veritable landslide in the industries affected. Some factories have closed. Some commercial houses have been embarrassed. In various industries working forces have been cut down. Again, after several years of labor scarcity, there is a margin of unemployment.

It would be easy, as a financial expert suggests, with these facts to paint a picture of "neute demoralization", but any such picture would be misleading. He points out that not a single business failure of any magnitude has yet been reported and that "the American people are making the necessary re-adjustments with little discomfort."

It is the truth, as any newspaper reader may satisfy himself by studying the financial news from day to day. What 'discomfort' there is may be largely due to the failure so far of some commodities to fall in harmony with the rest. This is particularly true of coal, and paper and a few other staples. It is awkward when some of the big staples remain at the peak of prices after the rest have found their proper level. When a common new level is found, people will begin buying normally again, and business can go ahead with assurance.

Leon Daudet, member of the Chamber of Deputies and leader of the royalist party, although he has fought eleven duels, has now refused a challenge on the ground that "duelling is a foolish practice and there is no place for it in France since the war"—which shows that even the royalists were shaken up by the great tragedy.

A paragrapher opines that "some girls grow more beautiful as they get older." But perhaps it is more adhesive in advanced age.

We quite agree with the editorial nut who remarked that "Mr. Harding will be the handsomest president since Wilson."

An exchange coughed up a good one when it said that "any man who is engaged in business is a fortune hunter." But it wasn't original.

Hitting the pipe is a dangerous practice with most people, but it doesn't bother the plumber.

DEFINED.

"Pa, what's meant by 'gay insouciance'?"

"Did you ever see a man in a motor-car nearly run down a pedestrian in the street?"

"Yes, pa."

"And did you notice how the motorist acted when the pedestrian shook his fist at him?"

"Oh, yes, pa."

"Well, that, my son, is a very common example of gay insouciance."

Case of Necessity.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," smilingly said a pawnbroker as he reached for a client's timepiece.

"I'm no friend of yours, Scroggie," said the needy one.

"Mebbe not," chuckled the other, "but the fact remains that you're putting up with me."

Higher Mathematics.

"Is there any such thing as squaring the circle?"

"I don't know," answered the busy campaigner, "but I'm going to try it. When the opposition candidate has swung around the circle, I'm going to follow him up and see if I can't square it for our party."

Sap and Salt

By BEET MOSES.

Belief is strongest about things that we do not understand.

A man's intellect can be largely measured by the way he takes criticism.

Very few of us are brave enough to sign our names to what we actually think.

Hez Heck says: "A town is in bad shape when its big men are all in the cemetery."

Those who fail to take care of themselves sooner or later have to let some one else do it for them in a hospital.

It makes a fellow sore when he gets a seat on the shady side of a train to have the train swing around and put him in the sun.

Black Cap's Significance.

The custom of putting on a black cap—ally a square of black cloth—judges in England do when sentencing a prisoner to death, originated from the custom of covering the head as a sign of mourning in ancient days. The judge, in putting on the black cap, mourns the fact that he is about to order a life to be forfeited.

Washington, Dec. 14—An agree-the United States to limit naval disarmament, does not meet the favor of Secretary Daniels, the secretary told newspaper men here.

Daniels said he would endorse an undertaking to reduce the sea power only in event it was world wide would arouse the suspicion of other nations.

The secretary indicated he would go before the House naval af-

ESCHBACH TO TALK TO PURCHASING AGENTS

Chairman of State Coal and Food
Commission Invited to Address
Convention at Mishawaka

TO DISCUSS NEW STATUTE

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14—Jesse
E. Eschbach of the Indiana special coal and food commission, will address the annual convention of the National Association of Purchasing Agents at Mishawaka, Ind., on December 15.

Eschbach was invited by W. L.
Chandler, president of the association, to speak on the law which created the commission and the effect that the commission's work has had on the coal industry in the state.

In asking Eschbach to speak before the association, Chandler stated that he believed the workings of the coal law would be and had been a good thing, believing that the law should be continued by the legislature when it convenes in January.

A New Health Service for Rushville

McKee and McKee, who have opened an office at 429 North Morgan Street, are graduates of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, the Fountainhead School. They are prepared to give the people of Rushville and vicinity a chiropractic health service that is efficient and effective.

People who have suffered for years and tried everything, have procedure for every case. He makes a spinal analysis to locate the cause of your disease, and then he gives a chiropractic spinal adjustment, which removes the cause. The location of the cause of the disease is definite and positive. The removal of the cause is as definite and positive as a result as the skill of the chiropractor makes possible.

Functioning power, or health, depends on the lines of communication between brain and body being free and open. Nerve energy travels from the brain down through the spinal column and out into the body through the nerve openings which, in the marvellous mechanism of the backbone, come between each joint. As the chiropractor makes his spinal analysis of your condition, he finds where there are deviations, and by the chiropractic adjustment, is enabled to correct the alignment and thus remove the nerve pressure which is causing the disease.

Now this is a definite service. It restores the normal nerve supply to affected organs and thus the body becomes normal, or healthful, and of course free of the disease. Under chiropractic adjusting disease disappears just as rapidly as the incoming nerve energy can overcome the abnormal conditions and repair the tissues for normal operation.

People who go to the chiropractor find that he has the same found chiropractic the solution of all their trouble. If you are a sufferer, then you owe it to yourself to find out what chiropractic can do. Your investment in the recovery and care of your health is the best investment you can make. It saves hospital costs and it develops your greatest earning power.

PRODUCE MARKET SHOWS A SLUMP

Depression in the Sale of Produce is Attributed to Poor Purchasing of The Public

IT SHOULD BE GOOD NOW

Holiday Season Generally Takes a Bound For Market and Rush May Be Expected

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14—From the reports that have been coming in from over the entire state for the past few days, there has been a very dull tone to the wholesale produce market for the past two or three weeks, and instead of showing signs of better spirit, it continues to grow worse.

The depression in the sale of produce is attributed by the grocers and wholesale dealers to the poor purchasing power of the general public. This in turn, is said to be due to the increasing numbers of the unemployed.

There is also, a spirit among those who have saved during the high wages and salary period, to be economical in groceries, dealers in produce say. This, it is said, is the only way that many people over the state will be able to enjoy the few and traditional luxuries of the Yuletide season. The rent and other bills which are permanent, must be paid and there is no way of reducing that portion of the cost of living, but the grocery bill is flexible.

This depression in the spirit of the produce market is more prominent in the manufacturing and commercial districts and cities, but everywhere it is evident.

There are hopes that during the few days preceding Christmas and the New Year holiday, there will be a better spirit shown, but after that the consensus of the opinions of wholesale produce dealers is that there will be a still further depression that cannot be broken until Spring.

ROOT VISITS HARDING CONCERNING LEAGUE

Urges President-Elect to Save Frame Work and Points Out Importance of World Court

TO SAFEGUARD INTERESTS

Marion, Ohio, Dec. 14—Pressure on President-elect Harding to save the frame work of the league of nations by offering to enter it on safeguarding conditions was indicated in the visit of Elihu Root, one of the most powerful figures in the republican party and a staunch friend of the league.

Root planned to try to convince Harding of the necessity of organizing a world court in which he participated several months ago. He was also expected to outline to Harding the extent to which European nations could be expected to go in making concessions to the American people when Article ten is struck out and the Monroe doctrine is interpreted.

Root is being urged by certain members of the party for secretary of the state. Harding has no decision to offer and shows no favor for Root as secretary of state as his advisors would desire.

Root's appearance here Monday served to back up the pro-league offer of Hoover. Charles E. Hughes, is understood to have outlined essentially the same issue. William Jennings Bryan plans to speak a word for the league and Ex-president Taft will be called later for the same purpose.

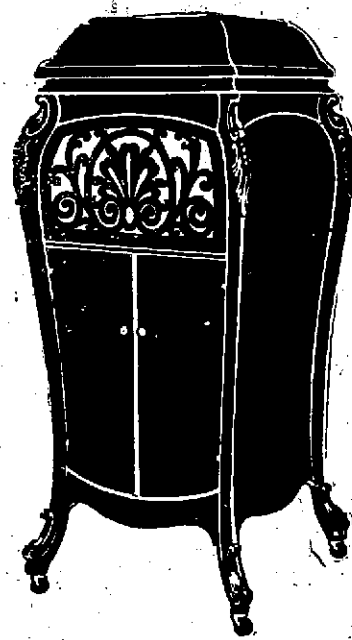

Recommended to School Children

This is the season when children are subject to croup, colds, and coughs. Rena C. Marchard, 36 Lawrence St., Salem, Mass., writes: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar with good results. I had a very bad cold and it gave me relief at once, so I recommend it to every child that goes to school." This standard, low priced medicine loosens and clears mucus and phlegm; checks strangling coughing, makes easy breathing, soothes and heals raw, inflamed membranes, and stops tickling in throat." F. GERMANY REFUSES TO ABIDE BY DECISION

Notifies League of Nations That She Won't Accept Terms as Outlined by The Plans

INVOLVES LAND QUESTIONS

Geneva, Switzerland, Dec 14—The German government Monday presented a new note to the assembly of the league of nations refusing to recognize the decision of the league regarding the awards of Eupen and Malmédy, former German territory to Belgium.

The league assembly began consideration of plans for an international tribunal submitted by a committee of three members. M. Leon Bourgeois, French delegate presented the commission's report.

Acknowledgement was made of the part played in drafting the tribunal planned by Elihu Root.

Medill McCormick, republican senator from Illinois and widely credited here as being an unofficial observer of the league's activities while president-elect Harding was a candidate, was present when Bourgeois began reading his report.

Bourgeois outlined the commission's plan for establishment of a tribunal with headquarters at the Hague. He said he court will comprise eleven judges and four deputies to meet in annual session there. The session will begin June 15 of each year and terminate when the docket is clear.

What Is It

that crowds our store with customers every day? Why is it that our business has increased almost 20 per cent over last year?

We are going to suggest only one of the many reasons here: We have always been consistent makers of low prices, our customers know that they can depend on us the year round.

We do not go on periodic sprees of price cutting and then forget it for a year.

Among the wholesalers we have, the reputation of being prompt pay and we have opportunities for buying that the slow pay fellow never hears about. Our customers reap the benefit of these advantages.

FULL Automatic Starts and Stops Itself

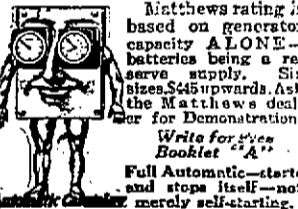

Not Merely "Self Starting"

THE Matthews "Automatic Caretaker" requires no prompting from the human brain in the recharging of the storage batteries. Long before they are exhausted to the danger point the "Automatic Caretaker," of its own accord, automatically starts the engine recharging the batteries. And it automatically stops recharging when the batteries are full. A "self-starting" plant depends on some one's memory. The "Automatic Caretaker" can be obtained with

When batteries are in danger of heating through overload the "Automatic Caretaker" instantly starts the generator which takes off the load. TRAINING SOUGHT IN OTHER STATES

Committee of the State Universities Has Just Completed a Survey of The Schools

NOT MANY COME TO INDIANA

Purdue and Indiana to Seek Levy Sufficient to Maintain Universities in Keeping With Times

(By United Press)

Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 14.—The committee of the state universities and normal schools in Indiana has completed a survey showing that 1,068 Hoosier young men and women are seeking their university training in state-supported universities of the state surrounding Indiana. In Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and Minnesota where these Indiana students have been attracted to the state universities of those states the educational crisis has been met by more liberal public aid to the institutions of higher learning. From these five states Indiana university has enrolled only 32 students while Purdue has 193 students from these states.

In Illinois university there are 450 Indiana students while five years ago the number was only 199. There are now 332 Hoosier students attending the University of Michigan, 174 at Wisconsin University, 97 at Ohio State University and nine at the University of Minnesota. Only a small percentage of Indiana students were attending these universities five years ago. The increased attendance of Indiana students at these five surrounding state supported universities parallels the increased public support of these universities.

Some of the best men of the faculties of Indiana and Purdue university have gone to these five state universities. Conservative budgets of Purdue and Indiana universities call for about $3,000,000 beginning in 1923 to enable them to regain the ground lost during the past years because of insufficient state aid. The two universities will ask the coming state legislature to authorize a levy sufficient to maintain and operate the universities in keeping with the forward step in higher education.

YOU never saw more exquisite cabinets.

The world has never produced any more exquisite cabinets.

These cabinets are descended out of the Golden Age of Furniture.

This was the age when Europe built its most luxurious palaces, created its greatest works of art, developed its finest types of craftsmanship.

Mr. Edison's designers went back to the furniture masterpieces of this period. They adapted 17 of them for the modern American home. They made every Edison Cabinet a period cabinet,—even the least expensive.

You must see these cabinets. Only then will you appreciate what wonderful richness and atmosphere one will add to your home.

Ask about our Xmas Budget Plan. It manages your money economically. It makes 1921 help pay: and that's good business.

Have You Your "Edison and Music?"

Get this fascinating book at once. It's free. The complete, romantic story of Edison's seven-year struggle to produce perfect realism in the phonograph. Beautiful illustrations of the 17 period cabinets. A truly worth-while book.

A Word About Prices

In 1914, as you can ascertain through practically any investment banker, the Edison Laboratories were selling phonographs on a narrower margin of profit than the other manufacturers. Since 1914, the price of the New Edison has advanced less than 15%—and a portion of this is war tax. "Edison stood the gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of everyone.

ANCIENT RACES PLAYED BALL

Tossing the Sphere is Supposed to Have Had Deep Symbolic Meaning Centuries Ago.

Although it is a proven fact that the game now designated baseball is of modern and purely American origin, the use of a ball in ceremonies and games goes back many centuries.

Four thousand years ago, in the twelfth Egyptian dynasty, an Egyptian artist sculptured on the temple wall Hassan, human figures throwing and catching balls. A leather-covered ball used in games played on the Nile over 40 centuries ago, has a place among the many archeological specimens in the British museum. It has a sewed cover and is in a remarkable state of preservation.

The game of ball was prized by the Greeks as giving grace and elasticity to the human figure, and they erected a statue to one Aristoncus for his proficiency in it. Ancient medical practitioners were wont to prescribe a course of ball playing, where the modern doctor would order a diet of pills.

It is supposed that ball tossing had a deep symbolic meaning when played in the spring of the year; and that the tossing of the ball was intended first to typify the upspringing of the life of nature after the gloom of winter. And, whether this was the case among the people of antiquity or not, it is a remarkable fact that the ecclesiastics of the early church adopted this symbol and gave it a very special significance by meeting on Easter day and throwing a ball from hand to hand, to typify the Resurrection.

"TOTEM POLES" TELL STORY

Are Historical Records, and Not, as Many Supposed, Idols to Be Worshipped.

An art in sculpture not resembling any other art in the world, unless possibly that of ancient Mexico, is found highly developed among the aboriginal natives of the northwest coast.

Their material is always wood, and is furnished by huge trees from the forest, which are carved into the most fantastic shapes. In this style are sculptured the so-called "totem poles," which, often of great size and height, astonish the observer by the intricacy of their workmanship and the weird imaginativeness of their complex designs.

Early missionaries in that part of the world mistook the totem poles for idols. As a matter of fact, they possess no such significance, being merely heraldic columns. Each tribal clan has its own traditions and myths, which takes the place of history, and these are symbolized by the extraordinary birds and other animals, sometimes human faces or figures, carved on the totem poles.

Thus the Bear clan will have its heraldic column topped by the sculptured figure of a bear. The raven shows up conspicuously as the totem, or crest, of the Raven clan; the whale for the Whale clan, and so on.

To the unversed a totem pole would have no significance beyond its queerness, but it is in reality a whole story carved in wood.

The Real Test.

The measure of civilization in any race or community is the capacity for co-operation—the harmonious and effective getting along together.

Bigness Necessary for Service

IN some farm operations, in many manufacturing lines, and, more particularly, in refining and distribution of petroleum products, large scale operations are essential to insure maximum economy and service.

The production of crude oil varies but little on account of seasonal changes, and the refining processes are continuous operations.

The consumption of petroleum products, however, varies widely with the season. In summer, consumption far outstrips production, while during the winter months the reverse is true.

To prepare himself for the summer rush, the oil refiner, who is ambitious to render a maximum service, must operate his refineries at full capacity throughout the year, and must provide adequate storage to take care of his surplus output during the winter months, and store it against a day of maximum demand when the country roads and city boulevards are crowded with machines, and the farmer has his tractor in the field.

To perform this service requires the investment of huge sums of money, and the maintenance of a complete organization at all times.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is ambitious to be a leader in the petroleum industry. It is ambitious to render to the people of the Middle West as near a perfect service as care, thought, and adequate resources can devise.

In carrying on its business, the Company has invested more than 185 million dollars; it operates four large refineries in which it manufactures the many varieties of petroleum products needed by the consuming public.

It operates 3215 bulk stations, more than 1000 filling stations, and a fleet of nearly 4000 tank delivery trucks.

Its permanent organization consists of about 23,000 efficient loyal men and women, working under one head, to render a service which makes it possible for you to get a gallon of gasoline, or a quart of oil, or a pound of grease, when you want it, and wherever you may be.

FOR SALE THE ABERCROMBIE FARM

In order to divide up the Theodore Abercrombie estate among the heirs, the farm, known as the

adjoining Rushville at the city limits on the north and consisting of 284 acres, more or less, is now offered for sale at private sale.

This is one of the best farms in Rush County, most of it having been in the family for fifty years and has been well taken care of and not rented.

It is capable of division into two complete and separate farms—each with tenant houses, barns and other first class improvements. That part known as the "East Place" lies on the east side of Main street, and comprises about one hundred and thirty-one acres, and that portion known as the "West Place" lies on the west side of Main Street, and consists of about one hundred and fifty-three acres. Both farms extend down to Eleventh street.

For farming purposes there are no better farms in Rush County than these, but they are further valuable because they lie right at the limits of the city on the north and adjacent to Rushville's finest residence section. Both farms are capable of sub-division into valuable city lots. Part of the farm has already been laid off into city lots, taken into the city and fine residences built upon it.

As the L. E. & W. R. R. bounds the farm on the west, and the Pennsylvania R. R. intersects a portion of the farm on the east, several fine factory sites are available.

This land will be offered for sale as a whole or as two separate farms. Possession will be given on or before March first, 1921.

BEEKEEPERS WILL HOLD CONVENTION

State Apiary Inspector Announces Meeting in Senate Chamber on December 16 and 17

M. J. NIBLACK IS PRESIDENT

Prominent Bee Raisers of the Country Will Address The Two Day's Business Session

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14—The annual convention of the Indiana Bee-keepers' Association will be held in the senate chamber, State House, in this city on December 16 and 17, according to announcement by C. O. Yost, state apiary inspector for the department of conservation, and secretary of the bee-keepers' organization.

Mason J. Niblack, of Vincennes president of the association will act as chairman. Several speakers prominent in bee cultural work are scheduled to appear on the program.

George S. Demuth, of Medina, Ohio, editor of "Gleanings in Bee Culture" will speak to the convention both days. Mr. Demuth formerly was connected with the U. S. department of Agriculture at Washington. Other speakers are E. W. Atkins, extension specialist, Watertown Iowa; E. S. Miller, Valparaiso; Ross B. Scott Lagrange; Richard Liebey, director of conservation in Indiana; and Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist. Mrs. Louis Burekhardt, of Indianapolis, will present observations of a beekeeper in Switzerland, her native country, and Q. O. Rainbolt, of Terre Haute, agricultural agent of Vigo county, will give a talk accompanying illustrated cinema pictures of a bee tour conducted recently in his county.

In a letter sent to several thousand beekeepers in Indiana, Mr. Yost calls attention that it was only a year ago that the Indiana Beekeepers' Association held its annual convention in Indianapolis and re-organized along more progressive lines. The membership is now about ten times as large as last year and there is a very substantial sum in the treasury he says.

The letter urges persons interested in more advanced beekeeping and augmented honey production to lend their support toward procuring improved legislation to further the business. It points out that while inspectors of the state department of conservation inspected more apiaries last year than ever before, they did not visit all localities because there were too few of them to respond to all calls for their aid.

Unless the Department is allowed more money for this work there will only be three inspectors in the field next year where there should be six or seven, Mr. Yost says.

Beekeepers of Indiana produced approximately six million pounds of honey last season. Hoosier accepted honey as a substitute for high priced sugar, and, in addition to local production, many carloads of imported honey were consumed. According to Mr. Yost, no other state in the Union has a more liberal distribution of honey bearing plants than Indiana. One hundred species gives the state two classes of early summer flows and two classes of fall flows. An entire failure of all of these groups at once has never been known.

DEAR OLD PETE:

Winston-Salem, N. C.
 Friday p. m.

Just wound up the one swellest day of my life! Since early this morning, when I got an invitation to visit R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories, I've been in the midst of millions of Camel cigarettes.

Man—the happiest idea you or I ever had as to the size of this Reynolds enterprise, or the number of Camels manufactured daily, is simply piker-stuff! Wipe off the slate and start fresh! Why—Pete, it seemed to me like a couple of those cigarette-making machines could keep half the nation smoking Camels steadily—BUT—honest to goodness, there are hundreds of these machines batting out Camels at the rate of 27,000 an hour—EACH!

Pete, you wouldn't have to consult a guide book to know you were in the Camel factories! The atmosphere is charged with that wonderful aroma you get when you open up a deck of Camels! And, you know, old elephant—you've had a trunk full!

As the Camels dropped into the containers I figured the delight each one would supply! And, how Camels mellow, mild body would hit the right spot and how Camels refreshing flavor would cheer up some smoker's jaded appetite! And, each Camel free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor! And—

Pete—I'll have to lay off and light another Camel! Write you some more soon.

Yours joyously
